

December 31, 2007

RADIO CALLERS TO "THE DAVE RAMSEY SHOW" ELIMINATE MORE THAN $19 MILLION IN DEBT

NASHVILLE, Tenn. Callers to Dave Ramsey's "Debt Free Friday" shows eliminated $19,797,050 in 2007. This impressive total doesn't even include debt reported on other days, through Financial Peace University classes nation-wide, on "The Dave Ramsey Show on Fox Business Network" or by any other means.

Ramsey's syndicated show airs in more than 325 markets week across the United States. Listeners from across the country call in daily to ask Ramsey about: how to stop fighting with their spouse, teach their kids about money, save for retirement, kick a gambling habit and other life issues they are struggling with. Fridays, however, are almost exclusively saved for calls from listeners who are celebrating being debt-free. Lara Johnson, who screens callers for the show and updates the debt-free figure, says, "Callers are elated when they've finally accomplished what they've worked so hard for a life without debt. They're excited to share their success, and Dave is always the first to congratulate them."

Callers to the radio show reveal how, through the use of Ramsey's advice, they were able to eliminate debt and the destruction it brings from their lives. A running total is kept, throughout the year, of the amount of debt reported by callers to the Friday show.

The Dave Ramsey Show

Dave Ramsey offers life-changing financial advice as host of a nationally syndicated radio program, "The Dave Ramsey Show," which is heard by more than 3.5 million listeners weekly. The three-hour live radio talk show focuses on life, love and relationships and how they happen to revolve around money. To ask Ramsey a question or to scream that you're debt free, call in during the show at 1-888-825-5225 or send an e-mail to daveonair@daveramsey.com For more information about "The Dave Ramsey Show" visit www.daveramsey.com.

#